

Hidden in My Heart

10,000 Maniacs

I see the leaves of autumn changing falling turning what was green
I see a door standing open, open to curiosity we could be together
It all apart would you ever notice what was hidden in my heart
Would you ever notice what was hidden in my heart,
As willows start to weep there as we stood upon the threshold
My deep heart is reeling forward and steady on to keep,
Heartstrong do we ever listen closely
Who said forever was for keeps?
Who made me miss the last ferry?
Who made this river so deep
