Coda

Threshold

I will break down this belief
Exhibitions of the weak
Sunken eyes that now behold
You and I held in relief
Like the parting of the sea
Fatal inhibitions
As my purpose now unfolds
I will break down these walls
I will break down these walls
I will break down these walls
I will break down these walls
I will break down these walls

I am flame desire burning your heart
I am damned forever failing to start
And when the spirit departs
I'll walk with god in the stars

I am black the shades of grey in your white
I am back assigning blame when you're right
And your wrongs repeating time after time

Face down now in amongst your mistakes now
Drown open mouthed no escape now allowed
The fight is still on despite all you've become
Now remain brave now fight because you
Can save somehow what was lost
Remember the power you found
As you made up lost ground
I will break down this belief
Exhibitions of the weak
Remember remember
You and I held in relief
Like the parting of the sea
Remember remember

I have found the roots of man in the earth
To the ground we walk with consciousness blurred
Only with the blueprint submerged can we finally learn

Icon crowned forging wounds in the skin
Last in line for redemption within
Without the scars that you've carried
Your renewal begins
Face up now take your place on the stage and bow
To the crowds now devout and proud
We look to the sun now your life's work is done
Celebrate out loud raise your voice to the sky and shout
We're sorry we've lost you
We remember all that you gave
In our hearts you'll remain
I will break down this belief
Exhibitions of the weak
Remember remember
You and I held in relief
Like the parting of the sea
Remember remember

I will break down this belief
Exhibitions of the weak
Remember remember
You and I held in relief
Like the parting of the sea
Remember remember
