Daphne Loves Derby

Show me something good that□s still worth fighting for I□m not quite sure how you survive the storms inside of your so ul
And ever since the start of this I turn to you
When I need something more than this empty road that I follow

So can I just hold on to you tonight?
Can I just hold on to you and make this right?
I take a part what is left and leave it
I□ve come to see that I□ll never make it
On my own

I can□t imagine all the things that haunt head when you lay in bed
And you try to find a reason to stay here
Ever since the start of this I never knew the right thing to sa y to you
The right way to help you through

So can I just hold on to you tonight?
Can I just hold on to you and make this right?
I take a part what is left and leave it
I've come to see that I□ll never make it
On my own

Hey, I know it□s hard for you to believe
But if you leave I□ll loose everything I really need
Everything that helps me breath
Hey, I know you're barely hanging on
But even with your weathered heart
I know you'll walk into the storm ahead of me

So can I just hold on to you tonight?
Can I just hold on to you and make this right?
So can I just hold on to you tonight?
Can I just hold on to you and make this right?
I take a part what is left and leave it
I've come to see that I□ll never make it
On my own

On my own
