

Sweet Song

2AM Club

Well I'm sending you a picture of the way it feels tonight to be young with so much freedom but still have you on my mind it's a crime against my 20s to love you the way I do but you make me think of sweet songs so I wrote this one for you

Pretty woman
I see the strength that's in your eyes keeps me going
don't need to think about it twice

Well the crowd is getting louder and theres laughter in the air and we're singing through the darkest with a back bag full of beer then I find myself outside and the city all alone with the statues and the headlights and the sweet song brings me home

Pretty woman
I see the strength that's in your eyes
keeps me going
don't need to think about it twice

Love is crazy
you say it breaks us every time I'll be broken babe before I let you fall behind [2x]

Yeah the times are getting harder and the headlines always say that the only thing worth fighting for is finding your own way but when I see my horizon and the lights come out of view all I ever hear are sweet songs
So I wrote this one for you

Pretty woman
I see the strength that's in your eyes
keeps me going
don't need to think about it twice

Love is crazy
you say it breaks us every time
I'll be broken babe before I let you fall behind [2x] before I let you fall behind [3x]

I'll never let you fall behind
