

Ooh a whole new way of looking at things the way you react to phone rings the way it feels when you just let it flow sometimes I wonder just how it could be you take every bit before we see it off the rails I think that you should know

You never cease to amaze me you keep me from going crazy and that's one thing I know for sure sometimes I see just how it all will be take every bit it's so easy the first straw
and this I know for sure

The first straw
so small it seemed impossible
the next straw
vanished like shooting stars that fall
the last straw
there's no reason for getting there at all yeah

No reason to take it there at all

The last straw can land in your mix your best day could be apocalypse nobody pay attention to the first straw it seems the last one is all we ever saw the first straw's a metaphor I pick up myself it tells me something by showing me something else
I think that you should know

there's no reason for getting there at all
yeah

No reason to take it there at all
yeah

Everyone reacts when it gets to the weight of breaking their back I won't let that be us cause the long side never gave back
yeah

The first straw
yeah
the first straw

yeah
