Ohhh ohhh

There's always an excuse when you need one There's always an excuse when you need one Aw, always a reason for someone

There's always an excuse when you need one There's always an excuse when you need one Aw, always tiptoe around the turncoat today Yeah
Which mood is it gonna be today
Yeah

This time you've done it You hurt yourself good Your best friend is gone And it's understood All alone and no singing At a true LA style Your phone stopped ringing

There's always an excuse when you need one There's always an excuse when you need one Aw, there's always an excuse when you need one There's always an excuse when you need one Always

Shut it down
Get it right
Cause a person can't win if they don't even put up a fight
Get it right
Everyone has got something that keeps them awake in the night
That's a fact
Don't think of the times that you gave up and let out some slack
Take it back
Don't think you're the only one going through it
Take it back

There's always an excuse when you need one There's always an excuse when you need one Awww

There's always an excuse when you need one Always, awww, awww, always