it's time to kick the basics flowing and knowing it's in your faces sounds good when we're trading up places when we fuck it daily I see something that sails me from here to infinity it nails me to do the groove til the suckas improve on these so called grooves that just don't move a million ways to fuck it up and one to get it right to the best of modern man keep movin through the night some new tunes and we make some new dubs well that's where we grow the gems the pearls take a trip to find there's another world
