

Thin White Lies

5 Seconds of Summer

I don't feel your love
And I don't ask too many questions
The words, they are too much
When you show me my reflection

When the sun goes down, we all get lonely
Watch me as I disappear
These empty sounds and endless stories
So tell me what I wanna hear

Thin white lies
Killin' me slow with the words you wrote
Thought you broke, that you broke, yeah
You're callin' my name, I don't wanna say
But I'm wide awake, I'm wide awake
(Thin white lies)
Just one more taste of you, my love
(Thin white lies)
Killin' me slow with the words you wrote
Thought you broke, that you broke, yeah

You never call me out
You know exactly where I'm goin'
You got me by the mouth
But she says she love me, she don't show it

When the sun goes down we all get lonely
Watch me as I disappear
These empty sounds and endless stories
So tell me what I wanna hear

Thin white lies

Killin' me slow with the words you wrote
Thought you broke, that you broke, yeah
You're callin' my name, I don't wanna say
But I'm wide awake, I'm wide awake
(Thin white lies)
Just one more taste of you, my love
(Thin white lies)
Killin' me slow with the words you wrote
Thought you broke, that you broke, yeah

I don't think I like me anymore
Can someone tell me who I was before
I don't really like me anymore
Anymore, anymore

Thin white lies
Killin' me slow with the words you wrote
Thought you broke, that you broke, yeah
You're callin' my name, I don't wanna say
But I'm wide awake, I'm wide awake
(Thin white lies)
Just one more taste of you, my love
(Thin white lies)
Killin' me slow with the words you wrote

Thought you broke, that you broke, yeah

(Thin white lies)
I don't think I like me anymore
Can someone tell me who I was before
I don't really like me anymore
Anymore
