

I Still Love You

702

See everybody needs someone by their side
And I can't go on without you another night
Since companionships been gone
My life has been so slow without you, you
See it don't take a rocket scientist to know I love you
And it don't take a rocket scientist to know I need you
See if you believe that you and me
Can change the world some day
Then you believe me when I say

I still love you
I still love you
I decided I still love you
I still love you
I decided

So what do you think
Lets get back together, lets get back together
It's nothing it could hurt, it could only get better
Think of what it lacks feel like
You and I didn't turn our nice into forever
See, see it don't take a rocket scientist to know I love you
And it don't take a rocket scientist to know I need you
See if you believe that you and me
Can change the world some day
Then you believe me when I say

I still love you
I still love you
I decided I still love you
I still love you
I still love you
I still love you
I decided I still love you
I still love you
I decided

Never to not be so happy and sure of myself
Baby life without you is so dark, so dark, so dark
Now I know it will never be me loving someone else
This precious love your my shining star
I remember when we first fell in love
I was too young to know what it was
I couldn't address what made melt
But quick to tell you how it felt
That love is so real and it still is

I still love you
I still love you
I decided I still love you
I still love you
I still love you
I still love you
I decided I still love you
I still love you

Just think of the things we planned to do, me and you

Life changing the face of those and that we once knew
So when it's the sun the shine the oceans are blue
And that we can laugh and cry and that through
