Aceyalone

yeah
yo what up
this is aceyalone
this is habit

yo, let me tell you a story real quick about one of my partners about this cat i know one of my homeboys and we just gone call him junior yeah, junior got some money just for bein a good kid he sealed it up and never even opened up the lid girls gave him candy cus he treated em nice he took it home and chopped it up and doubled up the price mrs. thomas at the parent conference said he was honest she was astonished at his confidence and what he accomplished he respected his elders but he knew who he liked he listened before he talked and he never would fight its like, everybody knew him that he wanted to know him and every time he did something for him they felt that they owe him he was learnin the life game that no one would show him he had more than a idea of where he was goin he grew into a young man and gained some trust
