Baby, Let Me Scream at You

Adam Ant

Say it, girlfriend, say it

Well, this is this and that is that Though shrinks say they no better But people making love says more Than any word or letter

He's not too good with books and such No not too good with that
But he's got knowledge nice and raw
And lots of nifty chat

Baby, let me scream at you You can decline of course I'm talking to you girlfriend Give me some chili sauce

Well, this is this and that is that Though shrinks say they no better But people making love says more Than any word or letter

She's not the subtle kind at all Don't live her life from books But girls are girls are girls are girls And boy she's got the looks

Get in get on get down get off Get up get dressed get out And if you find a better way Pick up the phone and shout

Get in get on get down get off How fond of milk you are Don't be a Mrs. Hangup girl Beaucoup de chocolat

It's that moment when you know it A first glance lets you show it That something good will happen here tonight

And far across the room
So deep inside her soon
Your passion's like a spear of true delight
