

This Could Be Home

Adept

You were the reason I opened my eyes.

These hand are shaking.

From carrying hope.

It seems I've lost the visions of a new beginning.

I try to get myself back up

but these thoughts they drag me down.

And I am fighting every second that I live without you now.

I will struggle a lifetime.

I will never forget your touch.

You are in my heart!

I never let go of your love.

Always in my heart!

These eyes have been searching for a reason to carry on with a broken heart.

And these feet, these feet are running i circles with a the mind that's giving in.

I would cut my throat if it brought brought her back again.

I will never forget your touch.

You are in my heart!

I never let go of your love.

Always in my heart!

I would cut my throat

If it will would bring her back!

Tonight I see the sun set the skyline on fire,

and all I can think about is where you will be when darkness em brace you.

Tonight i see the sun set the skyline on fire,

and all I can think about is where you will be when darkness em
brace you
