

They turn me alone, not today in you this void just goes away in this distant foreign land I won't be forgotten

Complicated I know life's this way and you're half the world away and my holds slipping from your hand as I walk you to the gate

And we're so far here, from home
we have just one night and I'm not lying alone here I will stay with you until tomorrow comes and I know, what you know, you won't be forgotten

I kept you a secret I don't know why I guess its easier to live a lie its no ones fault, well wait again the sky turns black and starts to rain you know I want you you know I need you to be near you know I'll fight for you know I'll cross this, ocean just to be with you we'll live our lives

and I know, what you know,
