

Empty Dreams

Agnostic Front

Another day in my life
Land of broken dreams
But I must move on
Another day gone by
Things aren't what they seem
But I must be strong

I was stuck inside an empty dream
I work so hard for nothing to receive
Put my heart and soul in something I believed
For it to crumble, for it to never be

The hardest part is to walk away
From everything, it fell apart
But sometimes you have to walk away
From everything to get a new start

I've always taken chances
But I know there's nothing guaranteed
I've made the best of many situations
Even when it wasn't meant for me, not for me

The hardest part is to walk away
From everything, it fell apart
But sometimes you have to walk away
From everything to get a new start

I woke up from my
My empty dreams
It wasn't meant for - It wasn't meant for me
Now I feel alive!
Now I can breathe

The hardest part is to walk away
From everything, it fell apart
But sometimes you have to walk away
From everything and pick yourself up
