

Now

Al Martino

Now all the world is mine
Now stars will always shine
Now life will be divine
Cause I found you

My prayers haven't been in vain
Your smile sends away the rain
Your kiss made it very plain
That your my dream come true

I must have prayed a million years
For such a romance to start
I must have shed a million tears
Till you put a song in my heart

And now wedding bells can ring
Now I can be a king
Now I have every thing
For I have you my love

I must have prayed a million years
For such a romance to start
I must have shed a million tears
Till you put a song in my heart

And now wedding bells can ring
Now I can be a king
Now I have every thing
For I have you my love
