That Feeling

I've made some decisions Never not the best Against my better judgment I must confess

I went astray so many ways So my dreams fall apart And came a day, I'm glad to say I followed my heart

That feeling, the one I'm feeling now Oh, that feeling, that turned me all around That feeling, oh, what love can do That feeling, that never let's me down

Oh, that feeling, that always come around I never need another It's gonna last my whole life through That feeling, I'm feeling for you

Looking in the mirror Reflecting on the past Memories or misery That's all fading fast

These eyes over my shoulder Oh, they made me realize I've made the right decision The day I recognized

That feeling, the one I'm feeling now Oh, that feeling, that turned me all around That feeling, oh, what love can do That feeling, that never let's me down

Oh, that feeling, that always come around I never need another It's gonna last my whole life through That feeling, I'm feeling for you

I never need another It's gonna last my whole life through That feeling, I'm feeling for you
