

Side Boob

Albert Hammond, Jr.

Eyes wide as the ocean
Moving in slow motion
A joke that's left angry
We pause for a moment
Palm bent like knees folding
We talked of your clothing
Roll down the new garment
Love songs of the moment

Strange place to hunt for you
Disguised by what we do
Sang out
We planted the joy that's in your house
That's really something that I never wanted to hear
Blind fear
It sucked out the breaths you were breathing
That's really something that I never wanted to hear

A knife on his armpit
His sights on your prophet
Who will you inhabit
Torn right from your basket
A list of his actions
Reports of conditions
A wind that goes absent
I failed at my mission

Strange place to hunt for you
Disguised by what we do
Sang out
We planted the joy that's in your house
That's really something that I never wanted to hear
Blind fear
It sucked out the breaths you were breathing
That's really something that I never wanted to hear

That's really something that I never wanted to hear
That's really something that I never wanted to hear
That's really something that I never wanted to hear
That's really something that I never wanted to hear