

Anyone with Eyes

Albert Hammond

If I tried, maybe I could stay alone here in my room
I would hide, find a corner in my mind that's free of you
Everywhere I turn I see your face, you're even in my drinking glass
The beating of my heart is like an avalanche that's going much too fast

Anyone with eyes can see your love is blinding me
You're all I see, I can't believe it, can't believe that
Like a sudden flash of light your love is blinding me
Love is blinding me

Like a storm in the sky my love is pouring out like rain
It's a flood in my blood, and it's running like a river through my veins
Everywhere I go you seem to follow me like something in the air
Images of you are dancing in my mind, I see you everywhere

Anyone with eyes can see your love is blinding me
You're all I see, I can't believe it, can't believe that
Like a sudden flash of light your love is blinding me
Love is blinding me

Anyone with eyes can see your love is blinding me
You're all I see, I can't believe it, can't believe that
Like a sudden flash of light your love is blinding me
Love is blinding me

Anyone with eyes can see your love is blinding me
You're all I see, I can't believe it, can't believe that
Like a sudden flash of light your love is blinding me
Love is blinding me

Anyone with eyes can see your love...