

Hey Finn McCool, should I believe in you
Your story crossed a million years
Building a path across the Irish Sea
So you could face your enemy

On Scottish shores, the giant benandonner
Waits for the fighting to begin
So Finn McCool did you turn back in fear
When you looked in the giant's eyes?

It's not so hard to see, why we love fantasy
Fables are better than fact
Legends are comforting, if you are listening
Go to that place but come back

You stood so tall, high as the highest tree
No one could ever beat you down
But face to face, this man looked down upon you
So a little giant ran

It's not so hard to see, why we love fantasy
Fables are better than fact
Legends are comforting, if you are listening
Go to that place but come back

It's not so hard to see, why we love fantasy
Fables are better than fact
Legends are comforting, if you are listening
Go to that place but come back

It's not so hard to see, why we love fantasy
Fables are better than fact
Legends are comforting, if you are listening
Go to that place but come back

It's not so hard to see, why we love fantasy
Fables are better than fact
Legends are comforting, if you are listening
Go to that place but come back

Come back
Come back