

Ice Cold Summer

Alesha Dixon

Baby, baby, baby
You haven't been the same
Lately, lately, lately
Seems like you've changed
But I never thought you'd break my heart
But baby, you did it anyway

You didn't have any patience
And I couldn't take it
And I won't let you break me
I wasn't appreciated and that's what I hated
So I'm telling you baby
It's gonna be an ice cold summer where you're goin'
For leaving me in this cruel cold winter, all alone
And now my ups are my downs and my highs are my lows
I don't know what you did but I know
It's gonna be an ice cold summer where you're goin'

Now maybe, maybe, maybe
If you were better I wouldn't go crazy, crazy
I'm going crazy, totally insane
Cause I gave you my heart, tore it apart
Maybe we're better going our separate ways

You didn't have any patience
And I couldn't take it
And I won't let you break me
I wasn't appreciated and that's what I hated
So I'm telling you baby
It's gonna be an ice cold summer where you're goin'
For leaving me in this cruel cold winter, all alone
And now my ups are my downs and my highs are my lows
I don't know what you did but I know
It's gonna be an ice cold summer where you're goin'

And I know what goes around comes back around
I once was lost but now I'm found
Have to get to higher ground
Cause I survived just knowin' that it will turn and blow on you
So you will learn

It's gonna be an ice cold summer where you're goin'
For leaving me in this cruel cold winter, all alone
And now my ups are my downs and my highs are my lows
I don't know what you did but I know
It's gonna be an ice cold summer where you're goin'
