

Satellite

Alex G

All it takes is you and I
Love's equation, our design
Is it gravity, your heart and mine?
All I know is the stars have aligned
I could count the ways you lit up my life
But I wouldn't try

Your sights I can't describe
Love unexplainably taking flight
Like a satellite

Ask me anything you'd like
I could answer every why, oh
You wake me up like the morning light
Even darkness can't dim your bright eyes
You're the rising sun, the kindest sign
I will be alright

Your sights I can't describe
Love unexplainably taking flight
Like a satellite

These nights
Praying they simplify
I look at you and my heart takes flight
Like a satellite, satellite

And when the skies are rough
The elements too much
Our love will hold us up
We're made of titanium

Your sights I can't describe
Love unexplainably taking flight
Like a satellite

These nights
Praying we simplify
I look at you and my heart takes flight
Like a satellite, oh
Oh, a satellite
Yeah, I look at you and my heart takes flight
Like a satellite
