

He's nice
Smells like summer wind
What's inside of him I cannot see
Games
Like a puzzle piece
Come fit into me so I can play

I bet I look good on your arm
I bet you look good with your black tux on
Even better after kack and soda
Even more handsome as you grow older
I bet I could right all your wrong
I see you on the dance floor making it feel like prom
I know that it's bad to want
But baby from here I can't take it, take me home

I do regret
I knew it all along
Can I get a bit of your cologne?
I'm on my knees
I'll twist and shout
Can you help me out?
A bit of your cologne

You spell my name in the sand
I watch you take my hand
It feels so wrong
Nights out with presidents
Fire and breath mints
It's almost dawn

I think I can roll with the best
I think we can fool all the rest puffing up your chest
I bet we look good in a photo
I bet they won't know that you're so much older
I bet I could fix your mistakes
I bet I could find and erase all of your heartache
I bet that I'm naive
I bet after this they'll be giving me the third degree

I do regret
I knew it all along
Can I get a bit of your cologne?
I'm on my knees
I'll twist and shout
Can you help me out?
A bit of your cologne
