

The Next Best Thing

All Time Low

Go!

I'm looking forward to another day without you,
The way I see it you could never do what I do,
I welcomed you with open arms,
you drove a knife right through my heart,
So now I'm crossing out the pain,
That's been taring us apart

You were out of sight, Now you're out of line
It went to your head, Now you're left behind
Let me go, Can't you see
You're just the next best thing to me
Here I go, Honestly
You're just the next best thing to me

I'm paking up my things
And moving on without you,
As far as I can see you'll never do what I do
I'm pushing you away
And living out my dreams that you tore down
Can't you swallow up your pride,
Admit to me and finally drown

I think you're in over your head
Choking as the water fills your lungs can't you see to me you're dead
Too late now whats said is done

You were out of sight, Now you're out of line
Went to you're head, Now you're left behind
Let me go, Can't you see
You're just the next best thing to me
Here I go, honestly
You're just the next best thing to me
