Allen-Lande

I can see you now
Like a million suns alight
As they pierce the darkest night
When all hope is gone and lost, I know...

When I was a child
I had the strangest dream
A thousand mirrors
All reflecting the same beam
It seem so hard
When you're left alone outside
To lack a part in all the greatest things in life

Now I'm at this crossroad
The light will be my guide

I can see you now
Like a million suns alight
As they pierce the darkest night
When all hope is gone and lost, I know...

So real at the time
Making up my mind
A stronger current
Pulling me into its line
When all hope was lost
You became my friend
And now we stand here in unity again

Now we're at this crossroad
The light will be our guide

I can see you now
Like a million suns alight
As they pierce the darkest night
When all hope is gone and lost...

I can see you now
Like a million suns alight
As they pierce the darkest night
When all hope is gone and lost
When all hope is gone and lost

Forever I'll be here, right by your side
When all the times change and our worlds collide

When I was a child
I had the strangest dream
A thousand mirrors
All reflecting the same beam

Now I'm at this crossroad
The light will be my guide

I can see you now
Like a million suns alight

As they pierce the darkest night
When all hope is gone and lost...
I can see you now
Like a million suns alight
As they pierce the darkest night
When all hope is gone and lost
