

Cry of Achilles

Alter Bridge

Cry Out
And know you can't escape, you won't bury it down
And it pulls you down
Now you're in too deep, you may never get out
Such a long face
Tear it down
It's almost too late, is the end coming now?
As you scream out loud
As you sever the beast, know your truth has been found

Is there nothing left to follow?
Is there nothing left to steal?
Crying out for something more than I've been shown
Knowing none of this is real

Don't close your eyes
Something beautiful, is still alive
Don't close your eyes
Never turn away, and let it die

I cannot seem to find the answers
Every truth has slipped away
All that riddles me will never cease to be Still I search this world in vain

Don't close your eyes
Something beautiful, is still alive
Don't close your eyes
Never turn away, and let it die

Cry out to save tomorrow
It's not too late
Or your heavy heart will follow
You to the grave

(This is not the end)
(This is not the end)

Don't close your eyes
Something beautiful, is still alive
Don't close your eyes
Never turn away, and let it die

We can't hesitate
Hope it's not too late, oh
For the time has come
What have we become, oh
Nothing left to do
But know the truth, oh
