

Tellin' A Lie

American Aquarium

Open your mouth, you're tellin' a lie
Open your mouth, you're tellin' a lie
If the good life's what you're seekin'
I worked two jobs in a weekend to get by, that ain't no lie
And if the money's what you're testin'
Honey, you are messin' with the wrong guy

Open your mouth, you're tellin' a lie
Open your mouth, you're tellin' a lie
He was better at makin' noise
And sure he had the better voice
I know you liked it, yes you did
Well we're out there on the road
And he's wastin' away back home, boy
Livin' to die

Open your mouth, you're tellin' a lie
Open your mouth, you're tellin' a lie
Well I won't be mistaken
For a one-hit wonder in the makin'
Wonder why?
'Cause if my time ever comes
Gonna blast off like a g-g-gun, so watch it
And I said, If my time ever comes, girl I'm gonna blast off like a rocket

Open your mouth, you're tellin' a lie
Open your mouth, you're tellin' a lie
Open your mouth, you're tellin' a lie
Open your mouth, you're tellin' a lie
Open your mouth, you're tellin' a lie
Open your mouth, you're tellin' a lie
Open your mouth, you're tellin' a lie lie lie lie lie lie lie
Open your mouth, you're tellin' a lie