

Things Left Unsaid

Amoral

I am not myself today
Just got informed you've gone away
Threw my whole little world into disarray

Can't see the forest for the trees
Won't turn our heads for any less than a wildfire
I wanna say that I've changed but that would make me a...

Helped me see all that I've got
Made me work on what I'm not
What good is a script if there's no chance of getting it shot

Can't see the forest for the trees
Won't turn our heads for any less than a wildfire
I'd like to say that I've changed but that would make me a...

[Chorus]

The weight of reality hasn't sunk in yet
The things left unsaid being my biggest regret
And all that you helped me with I won't soon forget

Head in my hands, tears in my eyes
Not so much as a simple goodbye
Denial works only the first little while

I'm gonna grab the day by the throat
And shake it for everything it's got
There has to be a ray of light
Hidden in this moment of darkness
The strain of an invisible chokehold
Threatens to blacken a memory
There is no way this was meant to be

[Chorus]

The weight of reality hasn't sunk in yet
The things left unsaid being my biggest regret
And all that you helped me with I won't soon forget
The things left unsaid being my biggest regret
