Far from the Sun

Amorphis

Nothing is more than too much I'm waiting for the tarnishing touch you wish for the last kiss goodbye like the child that cannot lie I walk away now from you and your sun it goes down from you as I walk away now from you and from from your sun holding the wounds of the bleeding souls you summon all the restless folk to share the feast of anxiety like the spawn that cannot breed

I walk away now from you and your sun it goes down from you as I walk away now from you and from from your sun
