

It Can Only Get Better

Amy Diamond

Let the sun refuse to shine
It won't be long before the days are brighter
If every step's an uphill climb
Carry on until they feel much lighter

For all the clouds up in the sky
For all the teardrops in our eyes

It can get only get better
Be still my heart
It can only get better
We've come this far
It can only get better

I know it hurts
For what it's worth
It can only get better

If he should ever come our way
Dry the tears and look somewhere above him
Might be easier to say than to do
But just pretend that you no longer love him

When your back's against the ropes
When you miss someone the most

It can get only get better
Be still my heart
It can only get better
We've come this far
It can only get better

I know it hurts
For what it's worth
It can only get better

I know it hurts
For what it's worth
It can only get better

I know it hurts
For what it's worth
It can only get better
