

Just For One Day

Andru Donalds

It`s time to make my silence now be heard
I`ve been hurting for so long inside it burns
As I get older I bleed a little deeper
For if no one knows who`ll care just for one day

When I remember all the tortures to my skin
Teacher teacher you must think my flesh is thin
Snap your fingers and I run just like a baby
If you`re the queen of all
Could you think just for one day

You never learned to love me just the way I am
In your heart I thought you`d maybe give a damn
Tell the world I am the best and then you hate me
How`d you think I would turn out
Could you feel just for one day

If time stood still
I`d be the wind
Free as a star
Just for one day
