

Gone Away

Angelus Apatrida

great plans all become one where the things that were made to me I'll be the happiest man in the world new illusion, new way to be keep my life for your self i can't believe that you're just gone away feeling alone. it's just myself
God is asking for my breath
I'm wasting away
I sink, in Hell
My life for yours, I'll love you eternally
These words resonate in my brain
I wake up in sweat
Every night's an empty life
Your skin became my simple dream
Gone Away
together, one for two black wings are feeling my back We'd like to fly so, so far away
Never return, not without you
I wrap myself in a hollow world
Stepping closer to the deepest land
A place where everything is black and white
Where I'll never miss the sun
I'm wasting away
I sink in Hell
Your lips close forever
One last smile to remember
My life for yours, I'll love you eternally
These words resonate in my brain
I wake up in sweat
Every night's an empty life
Your skin became my simple dream
Gone Away

My life for yours, I'll love you eternally
These words resonate in my brain
I wake up in sweat
Every night's an empty life
Your skin became my simple dream
My life for yours, (for you my life)
I'll love you eternally (my love for you)
These words resonate in my brain (resonate in my brain)
I wake up in sweat (for you my life)
Every night's an empty life (my love for you)
Your skin became my simple dream (resonate in my brain)
