Love of My Life

Anna Calvi

I cut my lip on a jewel-piece eye Gonna lick and lick it dry Spit up blood, take another sweet bite I'll hold you down and I'll hold you too tight

Only here on the sleeve of my heart It's the hand that makes its mark See the memories 'round my neck Spilling out of my chest saying Got to be the love of my life

I'm haunted by a holy desire Put a shadow on an inch of your thigh Heaven's such a simple lie I'll hold you down and I'll hold you too tight

I'm gonna soak my hands in milk Oh the wails, some head like silk I'm bloody, I'm bloody and dry 'Cause your heart won't sing to me Got to be the love of my life Got to be the love of my life

Through the passages and through the streets You whisper to me with a breath of heat Let's be strangers in the night The rest was silence there was no reply The rest was silence there was no reply The rest was silence...

She's got to be the love of my life
