

Slow Motion

Anna Graceman

Let the rain fall one drop at a time
Drifting down to touch my skin
Waves of blue when I look in your eyes
Breathe you in like oxygen

I don't wanna let another minute of you go to waste
Losing track of time, I keep on getting lost in your embrace
Holding on so tight 'cause I'm afraid you might, might slip away
I don't wanna let another minute of you go, oh

Can't keep this moment frozen
So why don't we move in slow motion
Can't keep this moment frozen
So why don't we move in slow motion

Heart open wide, just let it soak in

Feel every beat, there's no rush
When the song's done, the dance has to end
So drown me in your perfect touch

And I don't wanna let another minute of you go to waste
Losing track of time, I keep on getting lost in your embrace
Holding on so tight 'cause I'm afraid you might, might slip away
I don't wanna let another minute of you go, oh

Can't keep this moment frozen
So why don't we move in slow motion
Can't keep this moment frozen
So why don't we move in slow motion
So why don't we move in slow motion
