To Music

Anne Clark

Feelings for what? Oh, you transformation of feelings into . . . audible landscape!
You stranger: Music. Space that's outgrown us, heart-space. Innermost ours, that passing our limits outsurges as practised horizon, as other side of air, pure, gigantic, no longer lived in.