

Fading

Anouk

I got my head in the clouds
Running from the thunder
Proud as I can be I am
Waiting for the grey to replace the black in me
Daddy, will the sun come up again

You and me, we fail to see
Nothing lasts forever
It's plain to see, you will agree
It's hard to stay together

Will we keep the thieves away
Will we both remember
To make the best of every chance
Or will we just surrender
Shouldn't we be making
Any effort needed to
Stop our dreams from fading

The sky is fading black to blue
We should be together
I am runnin' out of faith
And it takes something more each time
Before I put my heart in your hands daddy

You and me, did we fail to see
No one stays together
No it won't be easy
You will agree
To make this a forever

Will we keep the thieves away
Will we both remember
To make the best of every chance
Or will we just surrender
Shouldn't we be making
Any effort needed to
Stop our dreams from fading
Fading, fading, fading, fading, ooh
