Anthony David

Can you tell me what I feel all I know is what I'm feeling is real

When you're around time stands still, you get me to the tip of my heels

And I know that we're fly and we're young

Not too young to be fly and in love

When I look in your eyes I can tell you're the one

They'll never all the things that I know

They'll never know we're so compatible

They'll never know just how far that I would go

They might doubt, but they gon find out

This love is official you get all my hugs and kisses

This love is a business and with you I know I'm winning

Let's make this official and this world could be our witness

Only the begining and with you I know I'm winning

Can't describe what I feel but I know that this feeling is real

Extrodinary love times ten

And I know that we're still having fun

So our love will be fun and be young

When I look in your eyes I can tell you're the one

They'll never know all the things that I know

They' ll never know we're so compatible

They'll never know that our loves not just for show

They might doubt, but they gon find out

This love is official you get all my hugs and kisses

This love is a business and with you I know I'm winning

Let's make this official and this world could be our witness

Only the begining and with you I know I'm winning

Can't describe what I feel but I know that this feeling is real

When you wrap your arms around me

So deep in your love I'm drowning

When you wrap your arms around me

Deeper in your love I'm falling yeah

I know I never ever felt like this

I feel the magic everytime we kiss

And let our witness be the whole world

So we can make it official yeah
