

Vera Lynn

Anthony Green

Would you please release me, everything is fading
I can't keep my eyes shut long enough to see
Visions I'm getting confused with
Shadows on my eyelids flickering the light

It's just like Vera Lynn
A nightingale sang in Berkeley Square in 1940
Oh, we'll meet again

Someday if you hit the big one
Everybody wants some from you, it won't last
Cause then one day you'll bite the big one
Everyone will move onto somebody new

It's just like Vera Lynn
A nightingale sang in Berkeley Square in 1940
I still connect with every single thing she sang
A nightingale sang in Berkeley Square in 1940
Oh, we'll meet again

I warned you, everybody see through
Coming out to get you, tell me how's it feels
Love like every day's your last one
Exploding with passion, pretty soon you'll see

It's just like Vera Lynn
A nightingale sang in Berkeley Square in 1940
I still connect with every single thing she sang
A nightingale sang in Berkeley Square in 1940
Oh, we'll meet again
