Your lies that took me where I've been Your lies don't make me who I am Your lies that left me scarred And so fucking hard

Your lies that burn me deep inside Your lies that helped to bleed me dry Left on your own Because your cover's blown

I am taking the music back I am taking the music back I am taking the music back I am taking back, yeah

Against your will I'm not a slave Against the deal and you get paid I won't throw you a rope You prove that shit can't float

Against it, you're the enemy Against it, your philosophy Shit thrown against the wall You'll eat it all

I am taking the music back
I am taking the music back
I am taking back

I am taking the music back I am taking the music back I am taking the music back I am taking back

I am taking the music back I am taking the music back I am taking the music back I am taking it
