

Come Away

Anything Box

Today I thought the world would end and I thought I'd lose a friend...
To silence...
The sunlight washed the cold away...
Clear the darkness from the rain... in silence...
You took my hand, I was surprised.
Then you whispered,
"You are mine, come away..."
I turned away from loving you, there was nothing I could do...
"Come away..."
I was once an angry man,
Blackened by the empty hands of silence... I locked my love inside a
Room, tomorrow's whispers turned to stone... in silence
You took my hand, I was surprised.
Then you whispered,
"You are mine, come away..."
I turned away from loving you, there was nothing I could do...
"Come away..."
I was once an angry man, I locked my love in a room inside me..
It binds me.
You took my hand, I was surprised.
Then you whispered,
"You are mine, come away..."
I turned away from loving you, there was nothing I could do...
"Come away..."
