

I remember the day it wouldn't last...anymore
You're too much of a lunatic, she said...
She was bored
Well one day I'll wake up
And see how my life's fucked up
But I guess until then I'll just pretend...
That you want more

Say something romantic, this feeling, I can't stand it
Like the time she told you, you were void

I've given you credit
Whatever chance I had I've blown
The status is over, so why can't I leave you alone
And you just don't miss me

I'm kinda frantic from the feeling that I get
When you're not there

I don't want to be a human trampoline...anymore
I'm not gonna let you jump all over me...honestly
I'm hoping you'll bounce back
And save me from this heart attack
Here I go again dying on the floor

I've given you credit
Whatever chance I had I've blown
The status is over, so why can't I leave you alone
But you're just so crazy

I'm kinda frantic from the feeling that I get
When you're not there.
