

We Are the Enemy

Aranda

Let it begin, let it begin,
bring it on, bring it on,
here we come again.
And the battle is all that we live for.

Breathing it in, breathing it in,
here we go, here we go,
turn it up to ten.
We stand on the edge of a war.

Our waiting is over,
the moment is now.

If you're looking for a fight,
I'll draw the line right in front of me,
We are the enemy.
If you step across to my side,
you better come with an army,
We are the enemy.

You're gonna pay, for looking away,
turn around and face your judgement day.
You should have known it was coming.

Ready to play, get outta the way,
there isn't a nothing you can do or say.
We'll stand alone in the end.

Our waiting is over,
the moment is now.
Never surrender,
we're taking you down.

If you're looking for a fight,
I'll draw the line right in front of me,
We are the enemy.
If you step across to my side,
you better come with an army,
We are the enemy.

The battle is already won.
The battle is already won.
The battle is already won.
The battle is already won.
Yeah!

If you're looking for a fight,
I'll draw the line right in front of me,
We are the enemy.
And if you step across to my side,
you better come with an army,
We are the enemy.

If you're looking for a fight,
We are the enemy.
And if you step across to my side,
We are the enemy.
