

Don't Talk To Strangers

Ariel Pink

I recorded this song from memory, I heard it a long time ago
I don't know who wrote it, I don't know who sang it
I don't know where it came from or why
But I just know that I've heard it, somewhere, sometime and I
Just needed to put it back out there, you know
So this song's for you, man, the one who wrote this song
And you're a stranger, and I'm a stranger
And even though we shouldn't be talking
I mean, who says we shouldn't be talking?
I mean, you said we shouldn't be talking
The girl said lie, this world, it seems
So I painted you a picture of my dreams
And you love me, don't you? (Yes, yes)
You risk nothing, don't you? (No, no)
So just say those words (okay, I'll go)

(Please, don't talk) She said don't talk to strangers
(Please, don't talk) She said don't talk to strangers
(Please, don't talk) Don't talk to strangers
(Please, don't talk) She said don't talk to strangers

You treat me like someone you don't know
But if you know love then tell me so
And you love me don't you? (No, no)
You risk nothing don't you? (Yes, yes)
So just say those words, you're dead, I'm broke

(Please, don't talk) She said don't talk to strangers
(Please, don't talk) She said don't talk to strangers
(Please, don't talk) Don't talk to strangers
(Please, don't talk) She said don't talk to strangers
(Please, don't talk) She said don't talk to strangers
(Please, don't talk) She said don't talk to strangers
(Please, don't talk) Don't talk to strangers
(Please, don't talk) She said don't talk to strangers
