This time she really tried
Came home and the place was decorated
Put his pictures in frames
Even ones of his friends
That she hated

She smiled from the couch Awaiting for him to come over He put down his suitcase Gave her a kiss on the shoulder

I couldn't wait to see you My baby boy

I'm tired of keeping score
Every time you get home
It feels to me
You've got one foot out the door
She taught me how to dance
In the evening light of her little kitchen
She whispered with her soft hands
And told me things that she always wished for

Then I get so dizzy
For this conversation goes in circles
I'm sick of walking in a room
And seeing shifty eyes make nervous faces

I couldn't wait to see you My baby boy

I'm tired of keeping score
Every time you get home
It feels to me
You've got one foot out the door
Yeah

She's sleeping on her own For the last few weeks She couldn't stand the bed The pillows or the sheets

Everytime you get home Promise me Things are going to change I just wait and see
