

The Light Which No Longer Shines

As Autumn Calls

I find myself reflecting
more often these days
Lost deep within myself
I can't seem to escape this

The light that shines
Has finally died
I see darkness
I am dead inside

I find myself falling
And I don't even care
I am tired of all this
But I still can't let go

The light that shines
Has finally died
I see darkness
I am dead inside

For all that I give
For everything I do
I can't stop myself
from drifting further

The light has died
It no longer shines
Darkness take me
I am dead inside

I find myself reflecting
more often these days...
