

In Between

Asher Roth

Shit gets complicated but you know it ain't a race (Slow down baby)

Shit don't pay the bills, but you need a little patience

Just-

When you in between, in between (Put it in between)

When you in between, in between (Put it in between)

Some procrastin', no hope havin'

Don't matter, feelin' low on the magic

Blowin' smoke till it passes, got no where else but up to go

Only static, gotta close my eyes, try to refocus

Time to practice, all this madness doesn't don't add up

Why everyone so mad cuz, everything too fast blowin' past us

Feel made stuck, sometimes I gotta back up

Remember everything I have is fantastic, that's cause

Shit gets complicated but you know it ain't a race (Slow down baby)

Shit don't pay the bills, but you need a little patience

Just-

When you in between, in between (Put it in between)

When you in between, in between (Put it in between)

It's hard to navigate, it's better to stay in your place

Always got it figured out, you know that ain't the case

Sometimes the intellect, it only ends up in the way

Only thing to do is let it go and simply wait, for it

When you in between, in between (Put it in between)

It don't matter much cause you already

In between, in between

But things will get much better for ya

Shit gets complicated but you know it ain't a race (Slow down baby)

Shit don't pay the bills, but you need a little patience

When you in between, in between (Put it in between)

When you in between, in between (Put it in between)

When you in between, in between (Put it in between)

When you in between, in between (Put it in between)
