

We regulate in your best interest
A rescue to which you're compelled
We're here to tell you what to think now
We're here to save you from yourselves

We are the chosen few
We know what's best for you

You'll live in fear because you're told to
You'll fall in line if you are wise
We're only here to help protect you
From the tyranny of compromise

We are the chosen few
We know what's best for you

One way for you, for us another
You can't be trusted to behave
Your opinion is not needed
You can't be helped, you can't be saved

We are the chosen few
We know what's best for you
