

If It's Love

ATB

So tell me the moment you slip away
And would you speak out if you don't believe
Tell me the secrets you hide in grey
And would you stand down if you won't retreat
Oh oh I'm not holding a prison
So you can leave

But if it's love, then I'll make sure
You won't need to search again
And if it's good, then I'll conquer
All the doubt that raged within
And if it's love...
Well I'll fall where we began
And if it's love...
Well I'll letcha break right in
If it's love

If it's love.

So promise to pick up the broken glass
When it's my heart that you've run up against,
And would you be kind to never look back
When it's my trust that you've gambled and spent,
Oh oh I'm not holding a fixed hand
So you can bet
But if it's love, then I'll make sure
You won't need to search again...

And if it's good, then I'll conquer
All the doubt that raged within
And if it's love...
Well I'll fall where we began
And if it's love...
Well I'll letcha break right in
If it's love

And if it's good, then I'll conquer
All the doubt that raged within
And if it's love...
Well I'll fall where we began
And if it's love...
Well I'll letcha break right in
If it's love
