

Hold Your Fire

Atomic Rooster

The final kiss, a single moment
A distant plane heard in the dark
A time to live, a time to die
Where do we go from here?

A gunman crouches in the shadows
A silent bullet cuts the air
No place to run, too late to fly
Where do we go from here?

Hold your fire, we want to live
Hold your fire, we want to live now
Hold your fire, we want to live, now
We want to live now
A cigarette ---- Eyes
The echo cracks the ring of steel
No time to hope, no chance to cry
Where do we go from here?

Hold your fire, we want to live
Hold your fire, we want to live now
Hold your fire, we want to live, now
We want to live now

Hold your fire, we want to live
Hold your fire, we want to live now
Hold your fire, we want to live, now
We want to live now

Ten thousand years, a world forgotten
A burning fragment lost in space
No one left to tell the reason why
Where do we go from here?
Where do we go from here?
Where do we go from here?
