

There is music and laughter lately and there's prayers and praise there are reasons to be so happy and beliefs to embrace there are times to be so angry I'd rather lie in the sun It's the summer of my lifetime I've been blessed with some fun

I'm a season past springtime and my life has gone boom keep my eyes on the Father everything is in bloom

Everything will just get better through the seasons I'll roam when all of the music's over I will get to go home

I don't need theology to know that God's been good to me He's given me a family and a place to lay my head Flung into the great unknown I was walking on my own now I'll never walk alone if I did I would be dead I can't use it all myself so I take it off the shelf here it is, enjoy yourself put away your drudgery, use it up,
there's always more that's what it's intended for be the Lord's ambassador to be the planets remedy
