

Devil's Bell

Audrey Horne

I was born a Frankenstein, have mercy on my soul
I've been baptized in unholy wine, electrified, an orphan child
With thunder in my heart, lightning in my head
I come alive, so let's wake the dead

Sound the devil's bell
Send me straight to Hell
There's tiny cracks in everything
That's how they let the darkness in to us

Crooked spine and colorblind, I stepped into the night
I've been mortified, cast aside, a feeble child
And Heaven has no mercy for my kind, a creature by design
Unholy child, you're no son of mine

Sound the devil's bell
Send me straight to Hell
There's tiny cracks in everything
That's how they let the darkness into us

What if I'm the only one out here
Left to die alone in the abyss?
What if I'm the only one who calls you by your name?

Sound the devil's bell
Send me straight to Hell
There's tiny cracks in everything
That's how they let the darkness into us
Sound the devil's bell
Send me straight to Hell
There's tiny cracks in everything
That's how they let the darkness into us
